HONOR SYSTEM FAILS IN JOLIET PEN SAYS WARDEN MURPHY

Says Men Are Sent to Prison Farm Under Merit System

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Joliet, Ill., May 25.—That the honor system is a failure and cannot be carried out effectively was the statement this morning of Everett J. Murphy, warden of the Joliet penitentiary. Warden Murphy announced that men sent to the state farm are there not as honor convicts but as merit men.

"As far as the honor system is concerned it is a failure and amounts to nothing," Warden Murphy stated. "Prisoners in the Joliet penitentiary are not sent to the farm under that system but are sent under a merit rule. An inmate's conduct is taken into consideration. He is given merit marks and if his record shows sufficient merit marks and there are no demerit credits against him he is entitled to consideration."

The prison official did not comment fully upon the numerous walkaways from the state farm. He said, however, that there are always violations in any trust imposed on men of the character of the convicts.

"We have been sending men to the farm in groups of 50," Warden Murphy stated and while it is true there are a few probably of each group who walk away the majority stay."

No Trace of Fugitives
No trace as yet has been found of Eddie English, Anthony Amido or the four men who left the farm Sunday night. It was said at the prison. Authorities through the country have been asked to be on the lookout for the fugitives. Every known haunt of the men is being searched and a general close hunt being made for the fugitives. Theories advanced that English and Amido might have been aided by persons inside the prison in effecting an escape were scoffed at by Warden Murphy. That there is absolutely no reason for the existence of this belief was the comment of the head of the penitentiary.

DEFLATION OF PRICES SHOULD AVOID FARMERS —HERBERT HOOVER

Says Reaction Should Not Begin With Producers

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 25.—Decrease in agricultural production may result in this country being dependent on overseas supplies, Herbert Hoover declared today in a letter to Representative Riddick, Republican, Montana, setting forth his views, as to practical measures to "insure better returns to the farmer for his labor and investment."

Mr. Hoover suggested the creation of a commission of farmers, economists and financial experts to consider the causes and remedies for the situation.

Asserting that the present high prices of commodities will "sooner or later" decrease, Mr. Hoover said this deflation must not begin on the farmer. When the collapse occurs, he predicted, intermediate dealers "will be able to pass the greatest portion to the back of the farmer, no matter how carefully handled."

"War deterioration in transportation facilities has created periodic structures in the free flow of food from the farm to the consumer," the letter stated. "This has compelled the consumer to buy during a local shortage and the farmer to sell his product during a local glut."

The burden of taxation is wrongly distributed, Mr. Hoover declared pointing out that the excess profits tax "is an appointment to food manufacturers and distributors to collect taxes for the government by adding them to the margin between the farmer and the market."

ICE CREAM CO. INSTALLED IN NEW LOCATION

Capacity of Thousand Gallons Daily is Now Possible

The Dixon Wholesale Ice Cream company has moved into its new factory quarters on West First street and is now manufacturing products in the new location. All of the machinery that was used in the former location has been removed to the new plant and several thousand dollars worth of new equipment of the latest modern type installed.

The largest cooling plant in the city has been installed in the new plant, the capacity being tripled over of the old location. The capacity of the plant is to be increased considerably and by running an ordinary eight hour day will turn out upward of 600 gallons of the frozen delicacy. In the hottest weather when the demand is greatest, the new equipment will turn out 1,000 gallons.

Not all of the contemplated improvements will be made this spring, owing to the delay in shipment of materials. It was planned to pebble dash the building, which was formerly occupied by the Leo Road livery stable, but this will probably not be undertaken earlier than fall. The new plant is equipped with loading platforms in the building, which is a decided feature over the old location. Large store rooms have been arranged to care for supplies and in addition to being roomy and commodious in every respect the plant will be thoroughly sanitary throughout.

PERSONAL ECONOMY IS AMONG NEEDS TO CUT DOWN COST OF LIVING

Gov. Harding of Federal Reserve Board Re-
Views Situation

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 25.—Economy in individual expenditures, reduction of non-essential loans by banks, increased production and improved transportation are needed to reduce the cost of living and deflate credits Governor Harding of the federal reserve board declared today in responding to a senate resolution of inquiry.

The board is not prepared to define what are essential and non-essential loans, Governor Harding stated. This he said, is a problem for local bankers familiar with local needs.

Governor Harding's letter presented to the senate, came in response to the resolution of Senator McCormick, Republican, Illinois, adopted recently, requesting information regarding what steps the board contemplated to meet the existing inflation and what measures were proposed to mobilize credits for movement of the 1920 crop.

Expansion Not Warranted.
Reviewing the board's warning to federal reserve members against extending credits and its increase of discount rates Governor Harding said the board for month "has recognized that the expansion of bank credits x x x was proceeding at a rate not warranted by the production and consumption of goods."

"The board is convinced," Governor Harding continued, "that if the unsold portions of last year's crops can be brought to market before the new crop matures, the liquidation of credits which are now tied up in carrying the old crops will be sufficient to offset to a considerable degree the credit demand x x x in moving the crop of 1920."

"In the efforts to reduce the non-essential loans, Governor Harding said banks were cautioned against drastic curtailments and advised to seek gradual liquidation and to grant loans stimulating essential production.

"The board will not hesitate so far as may be necessary to bring to bear all its statutory powers in regulating the volume of credit," he declared.

"Much will depend upon the restoration of the normal efficiency of railroad and steamship lines. If adequate transportation facilities can be modified the board sees no occasion for apprehension in connection with the movement of crops now being grown."

LEAVE IT TO UNCLE

DANIELS CALLS ADMIRAL FISKE GREAT EGOTIST

Also Says His Position was "Obstacle of Operations"

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 25.—The old controversy between Secretary Daniels and Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, was revived today before the senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war. Chairman Hale gave notice that Admiral Fiske would be called to reply to charges by Mr. Daniels that the Admiral had sought to "Prussianize" the navy.

Replying, Mr. Daniels said he had never paid much attention to Admiral Fiske's plan to reorganize the navy department in 1915.

"He loved me to exhaustion," declared Mr. Daniels. "He was a monumental egotist. He thought the German general staff system was the best in the world and wrote me about one letter a day urging me to approve its adoption for our navy."

"His favorite illustration of the way the system worked was a story that when the Franco-Prussian war broke out Moltke was asleep. When told that war was declared Moltke told his advisors to look in the top drawer of his desk and get the plan for war and then went back to sleep.

"I did not want a chief of naval operations who would go to sleep after war was declared."

Admiral Fiske's position in the navy when the reorganization was proposed, Mr. Daniels said, "was an obstacle for operations or I should say obstacle for operations."

AUTOPSY SHOWS CARRANZA WAS NOT A SUICIDE

Col. Herrero's Statement Refuted by Post Mortem

BULLETIN

By Associated Press Leased Wire
El Paso, Texas, May 25.—General Francisco Villa, bidding defiance to the newest Mexican government, again has become an outlaw among his own people. The bandit with a small force of men was reported today between Parral and Jimenez, Chihuahua, the hunted quarry of de facto troops, with a price of 100,000 pesos on his head.

Villa had been given until today to decide whether he would be at peace or war with the seventy-third government that has ruled Mexico in ninety-nine years, in an ultimatum served on the bandit by General P. Elias Calles minister of war for the de facto government.

The ultimatum was delivered to Villa May 20 at his camp at Boquilla, Chihuahua, but before the time limit had expired the bandit chief had fled to safer haunts.

General Calles has ordered large bodies of troops against him.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Vera Cruz, May 25.—Reports of an autopsy performed on the body of Venustiano Carranza at Tlaxcalantongo failed to agree with the claim of Rodolfo Herrero that the president committed suicide rather than being made captive, it is asserted in official quarters here.

Surgeons found, it is said, he had been struck by rifle bullets, one of which penetrated his breast and the other his abdomen. It was the conclusion of those who witnessed the operation that the President had been assassinated, it is said.

The text of Colonel Herrero's report to Mexico City was received here last night. Relative to the attack on Carranza he says:

"With the object of arresting Carranza I attacked his camp at 3 o'clock in the morning. He had reached Tlaxcalantongo where there is a place leading northward to a part of the republic where he had planned to establish his seat of government.

"When he realized that escape was impossible Carranza committed suicide by shooting himself in the breast with his pistol which he always carried."

Provisional President De La Huerta, chosen by congress yesterday will take the oath of office on June 1, according to present plans. In the election in congress Fernando Inglesias Calderon and General Antonio Villalard each received one vote.

TOOLS, WORKERS AND COMMUNITY SPIRIT NEEDED

Thursday's Clean-up of Island is Coming
Big Event

Axes, rakes, scythes, forks and lawn mowers—and men—are needed to make the clean up work on the city island a success Thursday. The promised response to this community obligation is much stronger than was anticipated at the outset and the committee in charge wish to impress upon all the need of tools with which to successfully carry on the work.

A ferry will be brought down the river tomorrow to take teams, tractors a motor truck and other heavy equipment to the island to be used in the work. George Netz, who is chairman of the clean up work, this morning assured the committee that an auto truck would be on the island to be used in caring for a great deal of the heavy work.

Those contemplating spending Thursday afternoon on the island and assisting in this worthy cause, are requested to bring lunches. The house committee of the Elks club have donated their services and will serve lunch to some of the workers at the noon hour. Workers only will be served at the lunch counter. Two dozen new park benches will be taken over to the island tomorrow for the accommodation of workers at the meal hour. A well has been driven at the north landing and everything will be in readiness.

A dock has been built opposite Assembly Place where all boats will land. During the day launches will carry workers from two docks. One of these for the accommodation of south side workers will be at the Esplanade and Coe dock on East River street. North side workers will be transported to the island from a dock at the foot of Assembly Place.

Will Give Entertainment
Under P.-T. A.
Auspices

Lovers of good musical entertainment, including many novelties, are promised a real treat at the south side high school auditorium at 8 o'clock Friday evening when the Swiss Bell Ringers will present a fine program. The entertainment is to be under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association and the profits will be devoted to the excellent work being accomplished by that association.

Some recent comments on the merits of the entertainment are: Last night's lecture course attraction was the Swiss Bell Ringers and they were easily the best number in the whole course. The concert was of high order, their program varied, and their instruments new, novel, and exceedingly interesting. The marvelous manner in which they handled the great variety of instruments places this company in a class by themselves.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

The Swiss Bell Ringers gave us one of the most interesting and uplifting musical programs ever held in this city. They are worthy of all encouragement. Christians can give. I have been pastor here ten years. They will be invited here again, D. E. Hughes, Pastor, W. Thompson, Evangelist, Monmouth, Ill.

PERSONAL LIBERTIES HIS SOLE PLATFORM HIS MANAGER STATES

Senate Investigation of Campaign Funds is Continued

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 25.—Walter W. Vick, manager of the presidential campaign of Governor Edwards, Democrat of New Jersey denied before the senate investigating committee today that any liquor interests were "underwriting" the governor's campaign. Mr. Vick was replying to questions by Senator Reed, Democrat Missouri. He has testified that the total fund raised for his candidate was $12,900.

"Have the liquor interests undertaken to finance your campaign?" Mr. Reed finally asked.

"No," Vick said sharply. "His campaign is not a 'wet' campaign. He hasn't himself had a drink of anything with alcohol in it for 30 years."

"That's not New Jersey's fault," remarked Chairman Kenyon.

"Has there been any pledge or promise in case of Governor Edwards' election to anybody?" asked Senator Reed.

"Absolutely none," Mr. Vick replied.

Questioned concerning an independent Edwards campaign organization at Chicago, he said it was aimed at the promulgation of a "demand for personal liberty" and that supporting Governor Edwards was only a single one of its objects. Frank S. Hurley, of Chicago, he said, was in charge.

Bulgaria is Making Great Recovery From War Without Succor

Sofia, May 15. (Delayed)—Bulgaria has had a remarkable recovery from the ravages of war. Contrasted to the situation of a year ago, conditions give promise that the country will outdistance all other Balkan states, regaining normal economic strength and this quick recovery has been made without outside assistance. Bulgaria has been at work. Its factories, farms and mills are going full blast. Chastened by the people are working with redoubled energy to retain their footing. The farms are yielding good crops, the fields are teeming with cattle, the mines and shops are busy.

Corn Prices Took Upward Turn Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, May 25.—Commission house buying which found offerings meager brought about decided upturns today in the value of corn. Scarcity of stocks of corn here tended to make sellers cautious owing to the fact that contracts for May delivery must be closed not later than Saturday. Moreover, bears appeared to be inclined to go slow until arrivals of corn here totalled a good deal larger than at present. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 2 1/4¢ higher with July 1.51 1/2¢ to 1.52¢ and September 1.51 1/2¢ to 1.52 1/2¢, were followed by material gains all around.

Oats ascended with corn. After opening 1/2¢ to 1/4¢ up, including July at 88 1/2¢ to 88 3/4¢, the market continued to climb.

Provisions were a little firmer in response to grain strength. Trade, however, was slow.

Eastern interests were free buyers at times, and there were continued reports of delayed planting. The close was strong 2 1/4¢ to 6 1/4¢ net higher, with July 1.54 1/2¢ to 1.55 1/2¢, and Sept. 1.54 1/2¢ to 1.55 1/2¢.

BLACKBURN-MCCOY

The marriage of Miss Kathryn Blackburn, daughter of Mr. Peter Blackburn, of Harmon, and Mr. Edwin C. McCoy, of Amboy, was solemnized at 8 o'clock this morning at St. Flannan's church, Harmon. Rev. Thomas Moore, of Harmon, was the celebrant. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude Blackburn, as maid of honor, and the groom's brother, Dennis McCoy, served as best man.

White Georgette crepe formed the bride's gown. Her hat and entire costume was in white and she carried white carnations. The maid of honor wore blue taffetas and also carried white carnations.

A wedding breakfast of several courses was served at the home of the bride's father after the ceremony to a company of about twenty-five, largely relatives of the two families. The breakfast was served by the Misses Myra and Agnes McKeel and Dolores Long and Henrietta McDermott. The table was very prettily decorated in pink and white.

Among the guests from out of town were Rev. Thomas Moore, of Harmon, Rev. C. F. Conley, of Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis J. Long, of West Brooklyn, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver L. Gehant, of West Brooklyn, and Miss Agnes McCoy, of Dixon.

The bride, a very charming and talented young woman, graduated from the Harmon High school a few years ago. Mr. McCoy is the son of James McCoy and is an aspiring and ambitious young farmer. He is a graduate of the Amboy High school. Both have many friends wish them all happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. McCoy left this afternoon for New York City, where their honeymoon will be spent. Mrs. McCoy wore as her traveling costume a blue tailored suit with hat matching. They will be at home by June 15th on a farm in Marion township.

W. R. C. MEETING

The Woman's Relief Corps meeting was held in G. A. R. hall Monday afternoon with an unusually large attendance of members. After the usual business, under the head of new business, Mrs. Ethel Brookner was unanimously elected to the office of Junior Vice President, and after her election was installed by Mrs. Nellie Eastman, Past Department President. It was voted to have a food sale, the date and place to be named later. It was urged that every member attend the services at the water front in honor of the sailor dead, to be held immediately after the parade and address on Sunday afternoon. Sunday evening all are requested to attend in a body the G. A. R. Post Memorial Service, to be held in the Baptist church. All of the members who can are asked to bring flowers to the court house on Saturday afternoon where they will be made up into bouquets for Sunday. Mrs. Lottie Horton, the patriotic instructor, is preparing a flag-day service for the next meeting. The doors will be thrown open to the public at that time.

HOT POLLIO CLUB

Mrs. Gertrude Petty was hostess on Monday evening to the members of the Hot Pollio club and a most delightful evening was spent in enjoying the dainty two course luncheon served by Mrs. Petty and in chatting over needlework. Mrs. Arthur Handell, nee Marie Madden, whose marriage was the subject of a recent announcement, was given a surprise gift, a tapestry table rug, by the club members. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Miss Dolly Fauth.

FOUR "IRISH-AMERICANS" TAKE LONDON BY STORM

BY MILTON BRONNER
 European Manager, N. E. A.

LONDON—Four little Americans are the hits of the stage here now. Every critic—Times, Mirror, Express, Daily News—all of 'em, declare the maidens from over the sea the creme de la creme of loveliness and the top notch of theatrical excellence. Miss Peggy O'Neill is starring in "The Next Best Thing," at the Savoy; Miss Laurette Taylor (upper right) is "knocking 'em dead" in the stellar role of "One Night in Rome," at the Garrick Theater; Miss Mary Nash (lower left) is the leading lady in "The Man Who Came Back," while Edith Day (lower right) at the Empire, is the dramatic center of "Irene," the shop-girl that tickled New York. Furthermore, the critics point out, all of them are of "Irish descent."

Think 348 May Have Passed Through City

From the collection of automobiles supplies picked up off the streets in the business section of the city last night and early this morning by the night police, it is believed the famous "348" car passed through Dixon at a late hour yesterday. The officers brought in a muffler and exhaust pipe which had fallen off a Ford, a gasoline tank cap, a head light lens and rim complete. The articles will be returned to the owners upon application.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

It pays to keep a full supply of spices and seasonings on hand. Not that it is advisable to buy in large quantities, unless the size of a family warrants it, but many flavors enable the cook to give variety to her dishes.

While it usually is more economical to buy these commodities by the bulk and ready ground for use, all spices lose their strength if exposed to the air and should be kept in air-tight containers.

The kitchen sets are most attractive but small baking powder cans may be used and made to look neat if not gaudy. Soak the paper off the outside of the can and paste your own labels on the plain tin. Print the label in large letters with strong black ink.

Menu For Tomorrow

Breakfast—Strawberries, rich waffles, syrup, coffee.
 Luncheon—Cold sliced meat, radishes, raisin biscuit, tea.

Dinner—Boiled cottage ham, baked potatoes, kale, fried parsnips, jellied prunes, coffee.

My Own Recipes

Kale is a green that comparatively few people use. The taste is somewhat like cabbage, just a suggestion. These greens require longer cooking than spinach and are tougher fibered. Their food value is great. Let old potatoes stand in cold water for several hours before baking and they will be nice and dry when done.

Raisin Biscuit

2 cups flour
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 tablespoon sugar
 2 tablespoons lard
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 egg
 1-2 cup raisins
 Milk.

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Rub in lard with the tips of fingers. Add raisins which have been seeded and cut in pieces. Beat egg with about one-fourth cupful of milk and cut into mixture. Add milk to make a soft dough to roll. Roll lightly and cut with biscuit cutter. Bake in a moderate oven for 15 minutes.

Kale

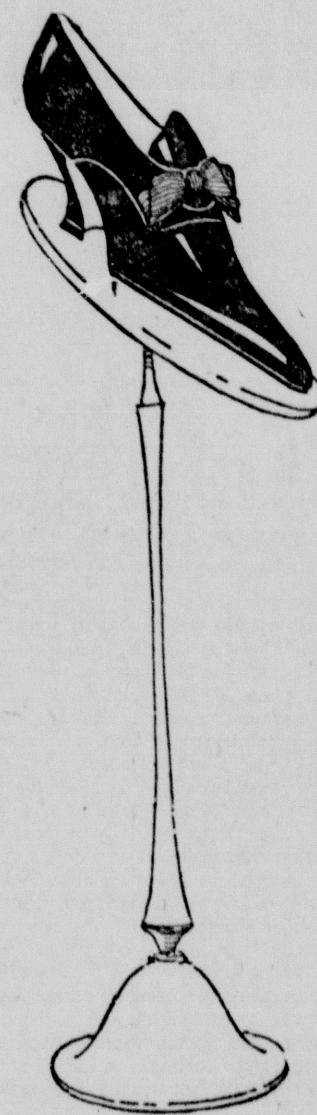

2 pounds kale
 2 hard-boiled eggs.
 Wash carefully through many waters. Cook with the ham, allowing 40 minutes. When tender remove from water and chop. Put in a baking dish, pour over ham broth to moisten and reheat in the oven. Garnish with slices of eggs.

FIDO—AND PRODUCTION

When a city becomes tired of its
dogs, it slaps a tax on them, or enforces the dog tax law, and the Fidos soon vanish. That is the best way to get rid of anything, tax it.

The federal government's best weapon against the narcotic drugs is
the heavy tax on them.

There has been much talk about taxing bachelors to get rid of them or rather, to make them get rid of themselves by marrying.

Maybe the same thing has happened to production. The federal taxes are the greatest the people pay now and they are all on production and consumption. Taxing a thing seems to be the best way in the world to get rid of it, and there is no doubt but what production has been curtailed
because of taxes.

Land values all over the country
have gone sky-high because persons making a profit on their investments
in land, the unearned increment, do not have to pay a tax on it, whereas
if they made a similar profit in production, they would be taxed.

If land will increase 5 or 10 per cent
a year, it is held to be better to leave
the money in land, rather than to sell
it and take the profit in money and have to pay an income tax on it.

This makes homes harder to buy
and cost more. It is hard even to buy vacant land. Men who own the natural resources cannot see the wisdom
of developing them while production
is taxed so heavily.

If the rule on how to get rid of the dogs holds good, taxes must have played their part also in curtailing
food and clothes production.

PLAY IT SAFE

"Better be safe than sorry" applies
particularly to motor car driving.

Figure not only that you are going to do the right thing. Take into consideration that the other man may do
the wrong one. Check up on the possibilities.

When you cross a railway track,
better do as the sign says: "Stop, Look and Listen." Be sure there's no approaching train on the tracks. Be sure that your motor isn't going to stall on the tracks, too. Failure to be particularly careful of railway crossings results in thousands of deaths a year in this country.

And in cities and towns. Don't start
from the curb, forward or backward,
without seeing to it that the coast is clear. Watch the cross streets and slow down when you cross so as to have the car under full control.

Always—always—out of common courtesy, dim the lights when you approach another car at night.

Don't cut corners in turning street corners. Keep to your side and so give the other fellow a chance. Pass a slow moving car to its left, but keep to the right of street cars.

Signal a car following you, or a possible car following you with your hand
when about to turn or to slow down.
Don't crowd another auto. It might stop suddenly and you'd be into it before you could do a thing.

But the main thing in running an auto is to use common sense in all cases. Common sense and good judgment are interlocking attributes for
the car driver who hopes to die a natural death.

HAVE A DOCTOR

The real business of a lawyer is not to get his clients out of trouble, but to keep them out.

The true business of a doctor is not so much to cure his patients as to keep them well. But he can't do that unless he is consulted frequently and

BRINGING UP FATHER.

Confessions of a Bride
(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

The thousand inhabitants of the hacienda emerged from their wrecked habitations to meet Travers and me. They did not welcome us. They merely tolerated us. The manager of the hacienda was courteous, but not obliging. Evidently the attitude of the Mexicans toward Americans had changed in that particular abode.

The Poverty of the People Hurt Me, it Was Habitual Poverty.

"Where is Dr. Certis?" I asked as soon as I had replied to the elaborate if not hospitable greetings.

Don Jose shook his head with a melancholy expression on his face and in his attitude.

"The master is not to be found," he said very solemnly. "Nor Don Manuel. Nor the Signora Camilla. All—all—have vanished from the earth!"

"They have been swallowed up by the earthquake!" came from the lips of a by-stander.

"Maybe not. Perhaps we can find them," I said, for I firmly believed that they were all sealed with Bob in the secret chamber. "Where is Mr. Robert Lorimer?"

"He was carried off by the bandits—the devils—who attacked this house the day of the earthquake," replied Don Jose.

"Then you are manager here now? With full authority?" I asked.

"At your service, Signora."

"Then set your men to digging through that pile of plaster," I demanded.

"Dr. Certis—Don Manuel and the lady Camilla are buried there. My husband is there. I am sure of it. Get the men to work," I pleaded.

Again Don Jose shook his head.

"There's a secret chamber under the debris," I insisted. "You can follow the shape of it. It's walls are ancient and firm as the rocks of the earth. It was a fortress long ago. You will find your master safe—alive!"

Don Jose shrugged his shoulders.

"Tomorrow—the men will work," he said. "Today—they are unwilling."

I realized suddenly that Don Jose didn't care much about finding his master or any of those who had formerly occupied places of authority at the hacienda.

Dr. Travers jumped out of the car and took Don Jose aside and began to argue the case in his best Spanish. I studied the man and the crowd.

Don Jose might have been Villa's twin brother from his looks. He was a capable man. He perceived what a grand chance he had to set up a nice little government of his own at the hacienda. That was why he couldn't persuade the people to search for the master! Probably Certis had originally employed him because of his ability to control the male inhabitants of the hacienda.

Not more than a fourth of them would ever be loyal to any leader, I decided after a rapid survey of the crowd. Probably some of them were out and out revolutionists, some were Carranzistas, some were followers of one popular "general," some trailed after each new political star.

The poverty of the people hurt me. It was habitual poverty, the poverty of those for whom a government does nothing. The people were so used to their misery that it never occurred to them to resent political exploitation.

There was the poverty of an uneducated people—the poverty of the lazy. Everything man uses comes from the soil and is made fit for man's consumption by the work of man's hands. When men refuse to work, either from physical laziness as it is developed in hot climates, or from the mob spirit as developed in Russia, or from false ideas of ease and comfort as has happened in more than one civilized country since the war—when men refuse to labor they court starvation for themselves and their neighbors. I concluded my reverie with the comment, "Mexicans are not the only lazy people I've seen since the war," when Dr. Travers returned.

"Nothing doing," he said briefly.

THE SUPERLATIVE ANTITHESIS

"Gone Back!" Light turns to dark and hope to fear;
Love is a withered leaf of some past year.
Earth cracks and corpse long since turned to clay
Hurtle like clouds through space towards Judgment Day.
The sun is cindered and the stars are black
When it is said of you "He has gone back."

"Come Back!" There is a radiance in the East.
The day's a festival, the night's a feast.
Women are gentle, men are brave and just;
There is no death and love has conquered lust;
God's breath is sparkling in the morning dew
When this—"He has come back!" is said of you.

The difference between a "Yes" and "No,"
Or "love" and "hate," or "life" and "death," or "fire" and "snow"
Is nothing. What are "white" and "black"
Compared to "gone" and "come" before the small word "back"?
"Gone" is last winter, "Come" approaching summer,
And man's a "goner," when he's not a "comer."

fully. To see the doctor when something seems to be going wrong is a matter of common sense.

It does not mean that one always imagines he is sick; and it does not mean that he is not as well able as other people to take care of himself.

It does mean that he recognizes his own limitations. "He who is his own lawyer has a fool for a client"; and the saying applies quite as well to him who is his own doctor.

If you have a doctor, trust him and let him trust you. Do not tell him half the case and hope that he will not discover the rest. Do not deceive him for fear that he will recommend something that you do not like. And do not run off to somebody else who professes to help you in some pleasant way.

You need an expert, not so much to prescribe remedies, as to find causes. Do not take matters into your own hands and try to treat symptoms. Let your doctor know that he can depend on you to consult him before it is too late, and that you will not dose yourself behind his back. That only confuses things and makes it harder for him to understand the case.

And take his advice. That is harder than taking medicine, but it often does more good.

Back in the old days they stoned their excess prophets.

Dressmaker Doing Her Bit

"Since I was a child, I have suffered with stomach trouble and gastric attacks. Doctors could only give me temporary relief. A lady I sewed for told me of having been cured of similar trouble by taking May's Wonderful Remedy. The first dose proved to me that it would cure me and it has. I am glad to recommend it to other sufferers." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Druggists everywhere.

Such is Life

BY O. B. JOYFUL.

I pray you, think not I am bold;
"Would be indeed amazing,
If calves like Nancy's I'd behold.
And not be loud in praising.

Perfection marks each luring curve.
With comeliness distracting;
In truth, as models would they serve
To please the most exacting.

And shameless Nancy feels quite free—
(Immodestly alarming)
To urge that all her friends should see
Her leaves that are so charming.

Yet not a friend that you may meet
Will think her conduct shocking;
Her calves—you see—have each four feet,
And never knew a stocking.

"Fear of ridicule," declares Professor A. Holla Dome, "is the mainspring of human conduct.

"The average biped wouldn't be laughed at if it meant a paid-up passage to Paradise.

"A man will make any kind of a fool out of himself to keep others from thinking he is.

"The mere thought that someone might snicker causes a man to wear a collar that makes a long-distance telephone the only means of communication between his hat-rest and his clothes-rack.

"And the scornful sneer of the head-wrater brings results a highwayman's revolver never hoped to obtain.

"But men have no corner on the fear of ridicule.

"An up-turned nose—on a neighbor's face—will make a wife bankrupt her husband buying frocks, and the plying smile of a social leader will drive her into wearing anything from a feather duster at a New Year's ball to a fur coat at a Fourth of July picnic.

"Rather than be laughed at, she will put more paint on her face than an artist needs for a six-foot canvas, wear less clothes than a Fiji islander, and dance with all the random energy of a malarial monkey in an Arkansas swamp.

"Yes, fear of ridicule will drive people into doing anything—except something worth while."

A dog will bark the more readily for applause.

The vanity of being well-dressed is never-the-less pleasing.

Pride and hate co-operate.

OIL CONSUMPTION

Try as hard as they please, it seems impossible for oil producers to keep more than a jump ahead of oil consumption. Indeed, it is past the time when American oil wells can even maintain stride with the growing oil demands. Yes, of course, the automobile is responsible.

Indications point to a 1920 consumption totalling 495 million barrels of crude oil. In 1918 the world's entire oil output was but 514 million barrels. The American consumption is 65 million greater this year than last; it is 175 million barrels greater than 1916. At the same time American production has swelled. While consumption in four years has increased 54 per cent, production of crude oil in the United States has increased 46 per cent. The deficiency has been met by an increase of 320 per cent in oil imported from Mexico.

"At this rate of consumption it is clear," remarks the Wall Street Journal, "that the United States must rely mainly on Mexico to make up its oil requirements."

Mexico is now shipping oil at the rate of 120 million barrels yearly, compared with shipments of less than 90 million barrels in 1919.

Statesmen requested increased production, and the country responded nobly with a remarkable output of advice.

There's the rub. Because either the first 5,000 were not built into them, or practical care was not given them.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

An Argument
"What's your name?" inquired Nancy timidly to the stranger who had recently arrived in Scrub Up Land.

"Queen Avis," returned the other promptly, and Nancy was ever so relieved to learn that she wasn't Mrs. Bee, as she had feared. But the little girl couldn't help wishing that Queen Avis didn't look so much like Mrs. Bee. She had always been horribly afraid of her.

Nick was just about to ask her what she wanted when he remembered the lecture she had given him on manners, so he put it this way, "How can we serve you, your majesty?" and he made a low bow.

"I came for two things," answered the little lady. "First, I wish my velvet and gold cloak thoroughly dusted, and second, I want you to put an extra lot of honey into the flowers before you send them to the Land-Where-Spring-Is-Coming. And do hurry with the clover and honeysuckle. I never was so hungry.

"Why, you like the very same things the bees like," said Nancy in a puzzled voice. "It's very curious! You look so much like them, too!"

"Look like them?" retorted Queen Avis. "Why shouldn't I?" Which was a most mixing answer, because it didn't tell you anything at all.

"And put in plenty of pollen-flour," urged Queen Avis, as Nick was brushing her with the very best whisk broom Rubadub owned.

"You mean flower pollen, don't you?" corrected Nick. "The yellow powder in the flowers."

"No, I mean what I say," snapped Queen Avis. "Pollen-flour!"

"Flower pollen!" said Nick, sure he was right.

"Ridiculous! Pollen-flour!" insisted the other. "The fairies and bees make bread of it to feed their babies."

"Both right!" declared Rubadub coming in just then. And he explained how it was.

cent, production of crude oil in the United States has increased 46 per cent. The deficiency has been met by an increase of 320 per cent in oil imported from Mexico.

"At this rate of consumption it is clear," remarks the Wall Street Journal, "that the United States must rely mainly on Mexico to make up its oil requirements."

Mexico is now shipping oil at the rate of 120 million barrels yearly, compared with shipments of less than 90 million barrels in 1919.

Statesmen requested increased production, and the country responded nobly with a remarkable output of advice.

GAS MANUFACTURERS OF NATION TO MEET TO STUDY EMERGENCY

Serious Situation Concerning Coal Will be Considered

New York, May 25.—Quick relief to gas, electric light and power companies from the present serious interruption in their coal supply as a result of the nationwide traffic jam, will no doubt be given by the Interstate Commerce Commission through an order granting priority of shipment for coal.

Oscar H. Fogt, Acting Secretary of the National Committee on Gas and Electric Service, said yesterday that the Commission would probably act since its attention had been called to the fact that unless relief is speedily granted to public utilities as regards a steady flow of coal, nothing can avert a shut-down of these plants and a cessation of service in localities where the most acute conditions now prevail.

"If the situation does not improve," said Mr. Fogt, "the living conditions of approximately forty-five million people who are served by gas companies throughout the United States may soon be affected. Not only are the immediate consequences of the gravest concern, but companies find it impossible to secure the fuel necessary to operate under present conditions and are utterly unable to accumulate reserve stocks. Gas plants in some sections of the country have been down to the danger line several times during the past two weeks and are struggling along from day to day, hoping for coal to come through. The effect of even a temporary interruption of such an essential service as gas supply would work irreparable injury to the public."

So serious is the present shortage and threatened famine in oil and coal that representatives of several

WORN SEPARATORS CAUSE TROUBLE

Battery Refuses Charge—Dealer Tells What Can Be Expected

"When a battery refuses to take a charge it is often due to the separators being worn so that the plates come together, making a short circuit," said the manager of the Vesta Battery Service Station, at the Wilson Auto Co., Garage, in a discussion recently regarding the upkeep of automobile batteries.

"The wearing through of the separators does not necessarily mean that a new battery is needed. If the positive and negative plates are in good shape a new set of mats or separators may be installed."

"In our repairing, we are licensed to use the famous Vesta Impregnated Mats. These can be used in the repair of any make of battery, but only by authorized Vesta Service Stations. We guarantee such repairs on the basis of six months' service. Vesta Impregnated Mats are unusually tough and durable and are impregnated with a chemical which prevents freezing. Being of wood they are porous and afford a free path for the electric current. They are only one of many reasons why Vesta batteries give long and satisfactory service."

"Vesta batteries have several other patented features which can be used in the repair of any battery. We are always ready to inspect or water your battery free of charge. By taking advantage of this service frequently some slight defect may be discovered and repaired which otherwise would soon destroy the battery."

STAR DUST

SHE RAISED HER ROSE TO BE A PLEASURE.

By Violet Moore Higgins.

If there's one bad fear to the heart of pretty blonde Enid Bennett, Thomas H. Ince star in Paramount Artcraft pictures, that bad is rose gardening.

She has never cared much for dogs or motors or any of the dozen and one fads that pretty movie stars can afford to indulge, and are surely to be pardoned for so doing, but to Miss Bennett there is no joy like that a gardener knows.

"I believe I must be a real suburbanite at heart," she admitted, smiling up at me over one of her own prize rose bushes, "because I'd be just the kind that would run for the 5:15 local every night in spring, carrying a lawn mower under one arm and a sprinkling can and a bundle of seed catalogues under the other. We always had a garden at home in Australia, and even when I was working in Perth in an office for a time, I had a window box garden to go home to at night. But now I'm just perfectly happy because I have a real garden that I can pitter around in all I want to."

Miss Bennett's joy in her garden isn't a selfish one—she welcomes her friends into its delights, and, as she is one of those people who has a way with flowers, just coaxes them right out of the ground and makes two roses grow where only one grew before. Her garden is really a place of delight.

Miss Bennett has achieved a big success in her latest picture, "The Woman in the Suitcase."

hundred gas companies throughout the United States met in New York City last Monday to discuss ways and means of meeting this great emergency that so vitally affects the living conditions of forty-five million people in every section and every community of the entire country.

Gas Concern Hard Hit

The real menace to the public in general as well as to gas industry was revealed in the oft repeated declaration that the problem first to be met and solved everywhere is that of a continuation of service by gas companies. So acute has the situation grown in many localities that manufacturers of gas are face to face today with the proposition of closing down their plants unless they immediately can obtain gas oil and coal.

It was repeatedly and emphatically pointed out that anything approaching a cessation of service would prove an actual calamity to consumers of gas in that it would produce a crisis amounting almost to starvation.

Figures were cited showing that many millions of families depend entirely upon gas for cooking as well as lighting purposes. It also was shown that it would be impossible, in case of any discontinuance of gas service, to provide quickly enough other means of cooking food to ward off actual cooked-food deprivation.

One of the points widely discussed was that of asking the Interstate Commerce Commission for priority of shipments and allocation of oil and coal. Another was the advisability of a representative body of gas manufacturers appearing before the proper authority at Washington to urge that a check be put at once upon the tremendous exports at this time of both coal and oil. Both these questions will be discussed fully at a conference of eleven hundred gas company representatives called to meet in New York tomorrow. This conference will be held at the Hotel Pennsylvania and at the session the whole gas industry situation, with all its various threatening phases, will be threshed out in detail and a definite plan formulated to combat the daily increasing liability that gas service in many localities will have to be cut off because of shortage of gas-making raw materials.

CAR SHORTAGE AND LABOR ARE REAL PROBLEMS

Govt. Relief in R. R. Crisis is Only Temporary

BULLETIN.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, May 25.—Reports to the interstate commerce commission today from its agents throughout the country showed a continued but slow improvement in the railway congestion situation. Members of the commission believed the peak of the congestion had passed and cited the report of the American Railway Association's car service commission which showed a reduction in the number of cars tied up from 236,000 on April 24, to less than 170,000.

BY HARRY B. HUNT.

N. E. A. Staff Correspondent. Washington, May 25.—The two factors controlling the immediate railroad situation, according to F. E. Brown, assistant to Chairman Clark of the Interstate Commerce Commission, are: FIRST—Labor.

SECOND—Car supply. Until these two are satisfactorily met, no action that can be taken by government with respect to priorities, pooling of equipment, etc., will give more than slight temporary relief, he declares.

"The freight movement of the entire country is governed very largely by the flow of traffic into and out of some 15 principal terminals," Brown explained.

Shortage of Men.

"Since the switchmen's strike, the yardmen's forces in these terminals have been altogether inadequate."

"Many of the old men never have returned to work and the roads have been unable to replace them. The few new men are less efficient and freight congestion has increased."

"The result is, that no matter how many cars there are, the problem will not be solved so long as labor situation continues. We have appealed to the mayors in the cities chiefly affected for assistance. But, you cannot take an uneducated or unskilled laborer and make him an efficient yardman overnight."

"Once this labor situation is cleared up, then the question of car supply will be the immediate governing factor. The commission will do everything in its power to make a proper allocation of cars and to facilitate their distribution."

"It will also do what is necessary to enable the roads to finance purchase of additional cars and equipment."

Rate Increase Coming. The commission began its hearings May 24 on the roads' applications for increased rates. These are expected to consume about three weeks. Indications are the financial situation of the roads is such that an increase of at least 25 per cent and perhaps as high as 35 per cent will be granted.

From 500 to 8000 letters are being received daily from trade organizations, business men and individual shippers asking the roads, application for higher rates be granted.

The shippers, of course, expect to pass along the increased rates to ultimate consumer.

CORPORATIONS DISCUSSED IN CON CON TODAY

Cumulative Voting by Stockholders is Attacked

By Associated Press Leased Wire Springfield, Ill., May 25.—Consideration in committee of the whole of the corporations and co-operative association's article for the new constitution was on the program of the Illinois basic law legislators today.

This article was taken up by the convention last Thursday and the first section, which is the same as in the present constitution, was adopted.

Debate upon the second section which pertains to cumulative voting by stockholders in corporations was begun last week and will be continued today, it is expected.

The text of this section follows: "The general assembly shall provide, by law, that in all elections for directors or managers of incorporated companies every stockholder shall have the right to vote in person or by proxy for the number of shares of stock owned by him, for as many persons as there are directors or managers to be elected, or to cumulate said shares, and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors, multiplied by the number of his shares of stock shall equal, or distribute them on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit; and such directors or managers shall not be elected in any other manner."

This section was attacked last week by Delegate Levy Mayer of Chicago who made a motion to eliminate it from the constitution. Many corporations have been driven to other states to organize because of the provision in the present constitution permitting cumulative voting. Mr. Mayer said, Delegate Henry I. Green, of Champaign also spoke against the section. Delegate Oscar Carlstrom, of Alton, favored retaining it. A number of amendments were offered and those who favor its retention as a part of the constitution are expected to offer other amendments which will make it acceptable to a majority of the convention.

Daniels Said Plans Had Been Made—Lost

Washington, May 24.—Explaining that it was supposed to refute repeated assertions that he had been dilatory in having prepared and approved plans for war, Secretary Daniels today read to the Senate naval investigating committee a schedule of war plans prepared in the navy department prior to the entry of the United States into the war.

The naval secretary testified that in 1915 he instructed the general board to prepare a plan for war "against any possible enemy." Such a plan was prepared, he said, in addition to the "Black plan drawn up years before specifically for war against Germany."

In addition to these plans, Mr. Daniels said that on February 10, 1917, he submitted to the general board a problem based on a declaration of war against Germany, asking for an estimate of the situation, directed at close co-operation with the allies, the best method of driving the submarine from the seas and the use of United States battleships.

Asked by Chairman Hale to submit a copy of the reply to the problem, Mr. Daniels said the one copy had been lost.

Driving Ease in a MAXWELL is Due to Special Steels

Many who drive a Maxwell prefer it to a larger car. They like its nimbleness, its quickness in getting under way, its peculiar ability to thread its way through traffic, its rare driving ease. One can drive it farther in a day with less fatigue than many cars much larger. The reason is clear: its engine pulls no superfluous weight. Not a single unnecessary pound burdens it. Special steels in a Maxwell eliminate the useless weight—steels made to Maxwell's own formulae, which equal pound for pound those in any car built. They have extra strength forged into them, and they provide lightness. This is one reason why Maxwell has won public favor the world over as indicated by nearly 400,000 now in use. How marked the tendency today is recorded by a production of 100,000 for 1920.

HONOR SYSTEM FAILS IN JOLIET PEN SAYS WARDEN MURPHY

Says Men Are Sent to Prison Farm Under Merit System

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Joliet, Ill., May 25.—That the honor system is a failure and cannot be carried out effectively was the statement this morning of Everett J. Murphy, warden of the Joliet penitentiary. Warden Murphy announced that men sent to the state farm are there not as honor convicts but as merit men.

"As far as the honor system is concerned it is a failure and amounts to nothing," Warden Murphy stated. "Prisoners in the Joliet penitentiary are not sent to the farm under that system but are sent under a merit rule. An inmate's conduct is taken into consideration. He is given merit marks and if his record shows sufficient merit marks and there are no demerit credits against him he is entitled to consideration."

The prison official did not comment fully upon the numerous walkaways from the state farm. He said, however, that there are always violations in any trust imposed on men of the character of the convicts.

"We have been sending men to the farm in groups of 50," Warden Murphy stated and while it is true there are a few probably of the majority stay."

No Trace of Fugitives

No trace as yet has been found of Eddie English, Anthony Amide or the four men who left the farm Sunday night, it was said at the prison. Authorities through the country have been asked to be on the lookout for the fugitives. Every known haunt of the men is being watched, railroad yards are being searched and a general close hunt being made for the fugitives. Theories advanced that English and Amide might have been aided by persons inside the prison in effecting an escape were scoffed at by Warden Murphy. That there is absolutely no reason for the existence of this belief was the comment of the head of the penitentiary.

"The men simply got away," Warden Murphy said. "There is absolutely nothing in the report that they were aided or might have been aided from the inside."

DEFLATION OF PRICES SHOULD AVOID FARMERS —HERBERT HOOVER

Says Reaction Should Not Begin With Producers

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 25.—Decrease in agricultural production may result in this country being dependent on overseas supplies, Herbert Hoover declared today in a letter to Representative Riddick, Republican, Montana, setting forth his views, as to practical measures to "insure better returns to the farmer for his labor and investment."

Mr. Hoover suggested the creation of a commission of farmers, economists and financial experts to consider the causes and remedies for the situation.

Asserting that the present high prices of commodities will "sooner or later" decrease, Mr. Hoover said this deflation must not begin on the farmer. When the collapse occurs, he predicted, intermediate dealers "will be able to pass the greatest portion to the back of the farmer, no matter how carefully handled."

"War deterioration in transportation facilities has created periodic structures in the free flow of food from the farm to the consumer," the letter stated. "This has compelled the consumer to buy during a local shortage and the farmer to sell his product during a local glut."

The burden of taxation is wrongly distributed, Mr. Hoover declared pointing out that the excess profits tax "is an appointment to food manufacturers and distributors to collect taxes for the government by adding them to the bargain between the farmer and the market."

"The whole marketing system in many of our commodities is indirect, expensive, wasteful, obsolete and increases the margin unduly," the letter continued. Our manufacturing industries have developed out of pace with our agriculture and labor is being drawn in thousands from the farm to the town at wages with which the farmer cannot contend."

ICE CREAM CO. INSTALLED IN NEW LOCATION

Capacity of Thousand Gallons Daily is Now Possible

The Dixon Wholesale Ice Cream company has moved into its new factory quarters on West First street and is now manufacturing products in the new location. All of the machinery that was used in the former location has been removed to the new plant and several thousand dollars worth of new equipment of the latest modern type installed.

The largest cooling plant in the city has been installed in the new plant, the capacity being tripled over that of the old location. The capacity of the plant is to be increased considerably and by running an ordinary eight hour day will turn out upward of 600 gallons of the frozen delicacy. In the hottest weather when the demand is greatest, the new equipment will turn out 1,000 gallons.

Not all of the contemplated improvements will be made this spring, owing to the delay in shipment of materials. It was planned to pebble dash the building, which was formerly occupied by the Lee Road livery stable, but this will probably not be undertaken earlier than fall. The new plant is equipped with loading platforms in the building, which is a decided feature over the old location. Large storage rooms have been arranged to care for supplies and in addition to being roomy and commodious in every respect the plant will be thoroughly sanitary throughout.

PERSONAL ECONOMY IS AMONG NEEDS TO CUT DOWN COST OF LIVING

Gov. Harding of Federal Reserve Board Re-Views Situation

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 25.—Economy in individual expenditures, reduction of non-essential loans by banks, increased production and improved transportation are needed to reduce the cost of living and deflate credits Governor Harding of the federal reserve board declared today in responding to a senate resolution of inquiry.

The board is not prepared to define what are essential and non-essential loans, Governor Harding stated. This he said, is a problem for local bankers familiar with local needs.

Governor Harding's letter presented to the senate, came in response to the resolution of Senator McCormick, Republican, Illinois, adopted recently, requesting information regarding what steps the board contemplated to meet the existing inflation and what measures were proposed to mobilize credits for movement of the 1920 crop.

Expansion Not Warranted.
Revealing the board's warning to federal reserve members against extending credits and its increase of discount rates Governor Harding said the board for month "has recognized that the expansion of bank credits x x x was proceeding at a rate not warranted by the production and consumption of goods."

"The board is convinced," Governor Harding continued, "that if the unsold portions of last year's crops can be brought to market before the new crop matures, the liquidation of credits which are now tied up in carrying the old crops will be sufficient to offset to a considerable degree the credit demand x x x in moving the crop of 1920."

"In the efforts to reduce the non-essential loans, Governor Harding said banks were cautioned against drastic curtailments and advised to seek gradual liquidation and to grant loans stimulating essential production."

"The board will not hesitate so far as may be necessary to bring to bear all its statutory powers in regulating the volume of credit," he declared. "Much will depend upon the restoration of the normal efficiency of railroad and steamship lines. If adequate transportation facilities can be modified the board sees no occasion for apprehension in connection with the movement of crops now being grown."

Big Bank in Japan Closes Its Doors

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, May 25.—The seventy-fourth bank of Yokohama, Japan, has been closed for three weeks pending investigation of its books according to advice received by Far East banking interests here today. The institution, rated as one of the largest in Japan, with reported deposits of more than $30,000,000 recently was taken over by S. Mogi, of Yokohama.

Suspension of the Mogi bank of Yokohama, controlled by the same interests as the Seventy-Fourth bank also was reported. Recent inflation and subsequent collapse of the raw silk market were said to have caused the difficulties.

Pleasure Auto in France is Doomed

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, May 25.—Adoption by the chamber of deputies of a provision in the tax bill placing levies totaling 551 francs on small cars has doomed automobiles as pleasure cars in the opinion of owners of machines in this city. In addition, owners of machines pay indirect taxes on gasoline, which, even for cars driven only 20 miles per day, amount to 1,000 francs annually.

LEAVE IT TO UNCLE

DANIELS CALLS ADMIRAL FISKE GREAT EGOTIST

Also Says His Position was "Obstacle of Operations"

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 25.—The old controversy between Secretary Daniels and Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, was revived today before the senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war. Chairman Hale gave notice that Admiral Fiske would be called to reply to charges by Mr. Daniels that the Admiral had sought to "Prussianize" the navy.

Replying, Mr. Daniels said he had never paid much attention to Admiral Fiske's plan to reorganize the navy department in 1915.

"He bored me to exhaustion," declared Mr. Daniels. "He was a monumental egotist. He thought the German general staff system was the best in the world and wrote me about one letter a day urging me to approve its adoption for our navy."

"His favorite illustration of the way the system worked was a story that when the Franco-Prussian war broke out Moltke was asleep. When told that war was declared Moltke told his advisors to look in the top drawer of his desk and get the plan for war and then went back to sleep."

"I did not want a chief of naval operations who would go to sleep after war was declared."

Admiral Fiske's position in the navy when the reorganization was proposed, Mr. Daniels said, "was an obstacle for operations."

Big Carnival Here All of Next Week

At a meeting of the Moose Carnival committee with Mr. Allen, advance agent of the Sol's United Shows, held last evening the contracts were signed for the appearance of the shows in this city next week under the auspices of the Moose. The arrival of the carnival will be chronicled by their steam calliope and band and all next week guaranteed clean shows will be given. Mr. Allen announced a popularity contest, in which the Queen of the Carnival will be selected, will be inaugurated as soon as twenty of the good looking girls of Dixon can be entered, and a fine diamond ring is to be the reward of the successful young lady.

AUTOPSY SHOWS CARRANZA WAS NOT A SUICIDE

Col. Herrero's Statement Refuted by Post Mortem

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire
El Paso, Texas, May 25.—General Francisco Villa, bidding defiance to the newest Mexican government, again has become an outlaw among his own people. The bandit with a small force of men was reported today between Parral and Jimenez, Chihuahua, the hunted quarry of de facto troops, with a price of 100,000 pesos on his head.

Villa had been given until today to decide whether he would be at peace or war with the seventy-third government that has ruled Mexico in ninety-nine years, in an ultimatum served on the bandit by General P. Elias Calles, minister of war for the de facto government.

The ultimatum was delivered to Villa May 29 at his camp at Boquilla, Chihuahua, but before the time limit had expired the bandit chief had fled to safer haunts.

General Calles has ordered large bodies of troops against him.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Vera Cruz, May 25.—Reports of an autopsy performed on the body of Venustiano Carranza at Tlaxcalantongo failed to agree with the claim of Rodolfo Herrero that the president committed suicide rather than being made captive, it is asserted in official quarters here.

Surgeons found, it is said, he had been struck by rifle bullets, one of which penetrated his breast and the other his abdomen. It was the conclusion of those who witnessed the operation that the President had been assassinated, it is said, closed, no newspapers are being published and electric light wires have been cut.

With the object of arresting Carranza I attacked his camp at 3 o'clock in the morning. He had reached Tlaxcalantongo where there is a pass leading northward to a part of the republic where he had planned to establish his seat of government.

When he realized that escape was impossible Carranza committed suicide by shooting himself in the breast with his pistol which he always carried."

Provisional President De La Huerta, chosen by congress yesterday will take the oath of office on June 1, according to present plans. In the election in congress Fernando Inglesias Calderon and General Antonio Villareal each received one vote.

Thursday's Clean-up of Island is Coming Big Event

Axes, rakes, scythes, forks and lawn mowers—and men—are needed to make the clean up work on the city island a success Thursday. The promised response to this community obligation is much stronger than was anticipated at the outset and the committee in charge wish to impress upon all the need of tools with which to successfully carry on the work.

A ferry will be brought down the river tomorrow to take teams, tractors, a motor truck and other heavy equipment to the island to be used in the work. George Netter, who is chairman of the clean up work, this morning assured the committee that an auto truck would be on the island to be used in caring for a great deal of the heavy work.

Those contemplating spending Thursday afternoon on the island and assisting in this worthy cause, are requested to bring lunches. The house committee of the Elks club have donated their services and will serve lunch to some of the workers at the noon hour. Workers only will be served at the lunch counter. Two dozen new park benches will be taken over to the island tomorrow for the accommodation of workers at the meal hour. A well has been driven at the north landing and everything will be in readiness.

A dock has been built opposite Assembly Place where all boats will land. During the day launches will carry workers from two docks. One of these for the accommodation of south side workers will be at the Elks and Co. dock on East River street. North side workers will be transported to the island from a dock at the foot of Assembly Place.

BELL RINGERS TO APPEAR IN DIXON FRIDAY

Will Give Entertainment Under P.-T. A. Auspices

Lovers of good musical entertainment, including many novelties, are promised a real treat at the south side high school auditorium at 8 o'clock Friday evening when the Swiss Bell Ringers will present a fine program. The entertainment is to be under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association and the profits will be devoted to the excellent work being accomplished by that association.

Some recent comments on the merits of the entertainment are: Last night's lecture course attraction was the Swiss Bell Ringers and they were easily the best number in the whole course. The concert was of high order, their program varied and their instruments new, novel, and exceedingly interesting. The marvelous manner in which they handled the great variety of instruments places this company in a class by themselves—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

The Swiss Bell Ringers gave us one of the most interesting and uplifting musical programs ever held in this city. They are worthy of all encouragement Christians can give. I have been pastor here ten years. They will be invited here again. D. E. Hughes, Pastor. W. Thompson, Evangelist, Monmouth, Ill.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 25.—Walter W. Vick, manager of the presidential campaign of Governor Edwards, Democrat of New Jersey denied before the senate investigating committee today that any liquor interests were "underwriting" the governor's campaign. Mr. Vick was replying to questions by Senator Reed, Democrat Missouri. He has testified that the total fund raised for his candidacy was $12,900.

"Have the liquor interests undertaken to finance your campaign?" Mr. Reed finally asked.

"No," Vick said sharply. "His campaign is not a 'wet' campaign. He hasn't himself had a drink of any kind with alcohol in it for 30 years."

"That's not New Jersey's fault," remarked Chairman Kenyon.

"Has there been any pledge or promise in case of Governor Edwards' election to anybody?" asked Senator Reed.

"Absolutely none," Mr. Vick replied.

Questioned concerning an independent Edwards campaign organization at Chicago, he said it was aimed at the promulgation of a "demand for personal liberty" and that supporting Governor Edwards was only a single one of its objects. Frank S. Hurley, of Chicago, he said, was in charge.

"Can you run a pretty good presidential campaign on $10,000?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"We could have used considerably more," Mr. Beller replied.

Bulgaria is Making Great Recovery From War Without Succor

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Sofia, May 15. (Delayed)—Bulgaria has had a remarkable recovery from the war. Contrasted to the situation of a year ago, conditions give promise that the country will outdistance all other Balkan states in regaining normal economic strength and this quick recovery has been made without outside assistance. Apart from some flour purchased from the United States last year, Bulgaria has depended upon its own resources, while other Balkan countries have been busy celebrating victories and seeking acquisition of territories Bulgaria has been at work. Its factories, farms and mills are going full blast. Chastened by defeat the people are working with redoubled energy to retain their footing. The farms are yielding good crops, the fields are teeming with cattle, the mines and shops are busy.

Bryan Takes Issue With Wilson Again

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 25.—William J. Bryan took flat issue today with President Wilson on the question of an American mandate over Armenia, declaring in a statement that "any mandate is impossible."

The United States, Mr. Bryan said, could do more toward making the world safe for democracy "even for democracy in Armenia" by recognizing the Armenian republic and entering the League of Nations as the friend of all little countries."

Corn Prices Took Upward Turn Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, May 25.—Commission house buying which found offerings meager brought about decided upturns today in the value of corn. Scantiness of stocks of corn here tended to make sellers cautious owing to the fact that contracts for May delivery must be closed not later than Saturday. Moreover, bears appeared to be inclined to go slow until arrivals of corn here totalled a good deal larger than at present. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 2½¢ higher with July 1.61½, to 1.62 and September 1.51½ to 1.52½, were followed by material gains all around.

Oats ascended with corn. After opening ¼¢ to ¾¢ up, including July at 88½¢ to 88½¢, the market continued to climb. Provisions were a little firmer in response to grain strength. Trade, however, was slow. Eastern interests were free buyers at times, and there were continued reports of delayed planting. The close was strong 2½¢ to 6¼¢ net higher, with July 1.64½, to 1.65½, and Sept. 1.54 to 1.54½.

SECRETARIES DANIELS AND BAKER HAVE CARTRIDGE SILK SUITS; CAN WEAR 'EM FOREVER

Left to right: Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, in his brand new cartridge silk suit, 1920 spring model; Secretary of the Navy Daniels is helping Uncle Sam wear his cartridge silk. Lower: A. Cavalli, textile division; Major W. J. Grinden, Chairman N. Y. District Ordnance Salvage Board.

Mr. American, are you going to wear a cartridge silk suit next summer? Secretary of War Baker is setting the styles. It's the latest thing out. It can't wear out, won't tear, and doesn't show the dirt. Millions of yards of cartridge silk are now being converted into wearing apparel. During the war the new silk was used to contain powder bags for the big guns. Uncle Sam decided to salvage it. Cartridge silk comes 36 to 72 inches wide, and in five grades. In its undyed state it looks something like ponce and is just the thing for summer suits for men and boys, golf suits, and riding habits. Cartridge silk was never used for any war purposes. The government had on hand more than thirty million yards of it when the armistice was signed. What to do with it was a question. Major W. J. Grinden, Chairman of the New York District Ordnance Salvage Board, told Irving T. Bush of New York of his plans. Mr. Bush brought in E. A. McLane, a noted silk man, who put a corps of silk chemists at work. The silk was processed into a wonderful fabric, and dyed in a panorama of thirty colors. "Cartridge silk is a wonderful fabric. It is almost indestructible. It keeps its shape beautifully, and washes well," say A. Cavalli, Textile Division, in charge of the Government Silk Fashion Show given in the Bush Terminal Sales Building in New York the other day. The show was attended by T. J. O'Neill, Director of the Division of Textiles, Ordnance Department, U. S. Army; E. C. Morse, Director of Sales, Washington, D. C., and other government officials.

Body of Chicago Bank Clerk Found

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Joliet, Ill., May 25.—The body of a man found in the drainage canal at Lockport yesterday afternoon was identified last night as that of Richard B. Wissmann, 32 years old, formerly a clerk in the offices of the Continental Trust company in Chicago.

Wissmann had been ill for some time. Last winter, it is said, he suffered a nervous breakdown and had been under the care of a specialist. On the morning of March 1 he eluded his relatives and went from the house. He was clothed in army apparel of his brother. Ten days later his overcoat was found on the banks of the Chicago river. The theory was at once advanced, it is said, that he had committed suicide.

3 million dollars worth of phonograph

Do you want to see what 3 million dollars' worth of phonograph looks like?—what three million dollars' worth of phonograph sounds like?—why anyone would put this staggering amount into one single solitary phonograph?

Come into our store and let us show you an exact duplicate of the Original Official Laboratory Model of

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph with a Soul"

The Original Official Laboratory Model! That's a name to conjure with. That's the phonograph which cost 3 million dollars.

Remember the 7 long years during which Mr. Edison experimented night and day. Remember the marvelous result he achieved.

Remember the countless times that exact duplicates of the Official Laboratory Model have matched their art directly against living artists,—and have proved that there is no difference between a singer's voice—or instrumentalist's performance—and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison.

We have exact duplicates of the 3 million dollar Original Official Laboratory Model. We guarantee that they will also match the living artist and equal the entire 3 million dollar musical ability of its famous prototype.

Our Budget Plan! The ideas of common-sense Americans, from Ben Franklin to Thos. A. Edison, applied to the purchase of a New Edison. Do you know about it?

BLACKBURN-MCCOY

The marriage of Miss Kathryn Blackburn, daughter of Mr. Peter Blackburn, of Harmon, and Mr. Edwin C. McCoy, of Amboy, was solemnized at 8 o'clock this morning at St. Flannan's church, Harmon. Rev. Thomas Moore, of Harmon, was the celebrant. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude Blackburn, as maid of honor, and the groom's brother, Dennis McCoy, served as best man.

White Georgette crepe formed the bride's gown. Her hat and entire costume was in white and she carried white carnations. The maid of honor wore blue taffetas and also carried white carnations.

A wedding breakfast of several courses was served at the home of the bride's father after the ceremony to a company of about twenty-five, largely relatives of the two families. The breakfast was served by the Misses Myra and Agnes Mekeel and Dolores Long and Henrietta McDermott. The table was very prettily decorated in pink and white.

Among the guests from out of town were Rev. Thomas Moore, of Harmon, Rev. C. F. Conley, of Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis J. Long, of West Brooklyn, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver L. Gehant, of West Brooklyn, and Miss Agnes McCoy, of Dixon.

The bride, a very charming and talented young woman, graduated from the Harmon High school a few years ago. Mr. McCoy is the son of James McCoy and is an aspiring and ambitious young farmer. He is a graduate of the Amboy High school. Both have many friends wish them all happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. McCoy left this afternoon for New York City, where their honeymoon will be spent. Mrs. McCoy wore as her traveling costume a blue tailored suit with hat matching. They will be at home by June 15th on a farm in Marion township.

It was voted to have a food sale, the date and place to be named later. It was urged that every member attend the services at the water front in honor of the sailor dead, to be held immediately after the parade and address on Sunday afternoon. Sunday evening all are requested to attend in a body the G. A. R. Post Memorial Service, to be held in the Baptist church. All of the members who can are asked to bring flowers to the court house on Saturday afternoon where they will be made up into bouquets for Sunday. Cemetery Business Now Transacted in Office on Grounds

As an experimental measure designed to insure better service to owners of lots in Oakwood cemetery as well as to lessen a duty of no small importance at the office of the city clerk, the city council has opened an office at the cemetery and today placed a young lady clerk in complete charge. Miss Mary Brochon has been employed by Commissioner George Campbell to take charge of the cemetery records and will be in the office at Oakwood every afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock.

All matters pertaining to the cemetery, purchase of lots, lot care and all other business will be transacted through this office beginning today. All information desired will be supplied from the office, which has heretofore been received at the office of the city clerk. All payments will be received at the office as well. The movement is experimental on the part of the council and will be continued through the summer months. Should the experiment prove successful, the clerk will be maintained at the cemetery office throughout the year to care for all business pertaining to the cemetery.

FOUR "IRISH-AMERICANS" TAKE LONDON BY STORM

BY MILTON BRONNER
 European Manager, N. E. A.

LONDON—Four little Americans are the hits of the stage here now. Every critic—Times, Mirror, Express, Daily News—all of them, declare the maidens from over the sea the creme de la creme of loveliness and the top notch of theatrical excellence. Miss Peggy O'Neil is starring in "The Next Best Thing," at the Savoy; Miss Laurette Taylor (upper right) is "knocking 'em dead" in the stellar role of "One Night in Rome," at the Garrick Theater; Miss Mary Nash (lower left) is the leading lady in "The Man Who Came Back," while Edith Day (lower right) at the Empire, is the dramatic center of "Irene," the shop-girl that tickled New York. Furthermore, the critics point out, all of them are of "Irish descent."

Think 348 May Have Passed Through City

From the collection of automobiles supplies picked up off the streets in the business section of the city last night and early this morning by the night police, it is believed the famous "348" car passed through Dixon at a late hour yesterday. The officers brought in a muffler and exhaust pipe which had fallen off a Ford, a gasoline tank cap, a head light lens and rim complete. The articles will be returned to the owners upon application.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

It pays to keep a full supply of spices and seasonings on hand. Not that it is advisable to buy in large quantities, unless the size of a family warrants it, but many flavors enable the cook to give variety to her dishes.

While it usually is more economical to buy these commodities by the bulk and ready ground for use, all spices lose their strength if exposed to the air and should be kept in air-tight containers.

The kitchen sets are most attractive but small baking powder cans may be used and made to look neat if not gaudy. Soak the paper off the outside of the can and paste your own labels on the plain tin. Print the label in large letters with strong black ink.

Menu For Tomorrow

Breakfast—Strawberries, rich waffles, syrup, coffee.

Luncheon—Cold sliced meat, radishes, raisin biscuit, tea.

Dinner—Boiled cottage ham, baked potatoes, kale, fried parsnips, jellied prunes, coffee.

My Own Recipes

Kale is a green that comparatively few people use. The taste is somewhat like cabbage, just a suggestion. These greens require longer cooking than spinach and are tougher fibered. Their food value is great. Let old potatoes stand in cold water for several hours before baking and they will be nice and dry when done.

Raisin Biscuit

2 cups flour
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 tablespoon sugar
 2 tablespoons lard
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 egg
 1-2 cup raisins
 Milk.

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Rub in lard with the tips of fingers. Add raisins which have been seeded and cut in pieces. Beat egg with about one-fourth cupful of milk and cut into mixture. Add milk to make a soft dough to roll. Roll lightly and cut with biscuit cutter. Bake in a moderate oven for 15 minutes.

Kale

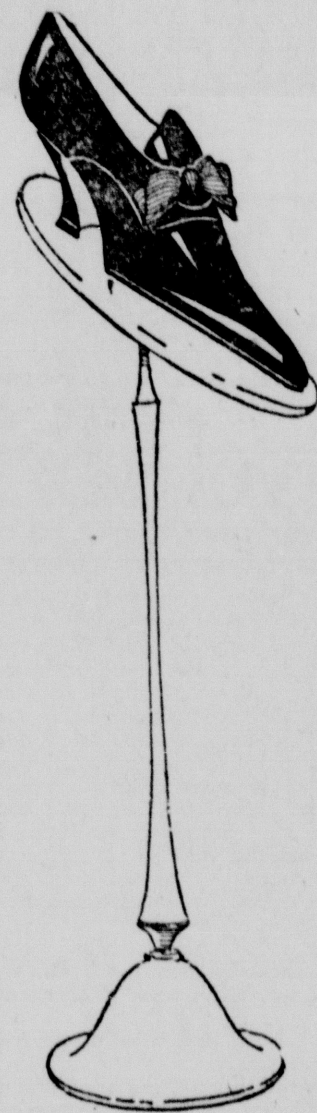

2 pounds kale
 2 hard-boiled eggs.
 Wash carefully through many waters. Cook with the ham, allowing 40 minutes. When tender remove from water and chop. Put in a baking dish, pour over ham broth to moisten and reheat in the oven. Garnish with slices of eggs.

FIDO—AND PRODUCTION

When a city becomes tired of its
dogs, it slaps a tax on them, or en-
forces the dog tax law, and the Fidos
soon vanish. That is the best way to get rid of anything, tax it.

The federal government's best
weapon against the narcotic drugs is
the heavy tax on them.

There has been much talk about taxing bachelors to get rid of them or
rather, to make them get rid of themselves by marrying.

Maybe the same thing has happened
to production. The federal taxes are the greatest the people pay now and they are all on production and consumption. Taxing a thing seems to be the best way in the world to get rid of it, and there is no doubt but
what production has been curtailed
because of taxes.

Land values all over the country
have gone sky-high because persons
making a profit on their investments
in land, the unearned increment, do
not have to pay a tax on it, whereas
if they made a similar profit in production, they would be taxed.

If land will increase 5 or 10 per cent
a year, it is held to be better to leave
the money in land, rather than to sell
it and take the profit in money and
have to pay an income tax on it.

This makes homes harder to buy
and cost more. It is hard even to buy vacant land. Men who own the natural resources cannot see the wisdom
of developing them while production
is taxed so heavily.

If the rule on how to get rid of the dogs holds good, taxes must have
played their part also in curtailing
food and clothes production.

PLAY IT SAFE

"Better be safe than sorry" applies
particularly to motor car driving.

Figure not only that you are going to do the right thing. Take into consideration that the other man may do
the wrong one. Check up on the possibilities.

When you cross a railway track,
better do as the sign says: "Stop, Look
and Listen." Be sure there's no approaching train on the tracks. Be sure that your motor isn't going to stall on the tracks, too. Failure to be particularly careful of railway
crossings results in thousands of deaths a year in this country.

And in cities and towns. Don't start
from the curb, forward or backward,
without seeing to it that the coast is clear. Watch the cross streets and slow down when you cross so as to have the car under full control.

Always—always—out of common
courtesy, dim the lights when you approach another car at night.

Don't cut corners in turning street
corners. Keep to your side and so give the other fellow a chance. Pass a slow or moving car to its left, but keep to the right of street cars.

Signal a car following you, or a possible car following you with your hand
when about to turn or to slow down.
Don't crowd another auto. It might stop suddenly and you'd be into it before you could do a thing.

But the main thing in running an auto is to use common sense in all cases. Common sense and good judgment are interlocking attributes for
the car driver who hopes to die a natural death.

HAVE A DOCTOR

The real business of a lawyer is not
to get his clients out of trouble, but to
keep them out.

The true business of a doctor is not so much to cure his patients as to keep them well. But he can't do that unless he is consulted frequently and

BRINGING UP FATHER.

Confessions of a Bride
(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

The thousand inhabitants of the hacienda emerged from their wrecked habitations to meet Travers and me. They did not welcome us. They merely tolerated us. The manager of the hacienda was courteous, but not obliging. Evidently the attitude of the Mexicans toward Americans had changed in that particular abode.
"Where is Dr. Cortez?" I asked as soon as I had replied to the elate
if not hospitable greetings.
Don Jose shook his head with a melancholy expression on his face and in his attitude.
"The master is not to be found," he said very solemnly. "Nor Don Manuel.
Nor the Signora Camilla. All—all—have vanished from the earth!"
"They have been swallowed up by the earthquake!" came from the lips of a by-stander.
"Maybe not. Perhaps we can find them," I said, for I firmly believed that they were all sealed with Bob in the secret chamber. "Where is Mr. Robert Lorimer?"
"He was carried off by the bandits—the devils—who attacked this house
the day of the earthquake," replied Don Jose.
"Then you are manager here now? With full authority?" I asked.
"At your service, Signora."
"Then set your men to digging through that pile of plaster," I demanded.
"Dr. Cortez—Don Manuel and the lady Camilla are buried there. My husband is there. I am sure of it. Get the men to work," I pleaded.
Again Don Jose shook his head.
"There's a secret chamber under the debris," I insisted. "You can follow the shape of it. It's walls are ancient and firm as the rocks of the earth. It was a fortress long ago. You will find your master safe—alive!"
Don Jose shrugged his shoulders.
"Tomorrow—the men will work," he said. "Today—they are unwilling."
I realized suddenly that Don Jose didn't care much about finding his master or any of those who had formerly occupied places of authority at the hacienda.
Dr. Travers jumped out of the car and took Don Jose aside and began to argue the case in his best Spanish. I studied the man and the crowd.
Don Jose might have been Villa's twin brother from his looks. He was a capable man. He perceived what a grand chance he had to set up a nice little government of his own at the hacienda. That was why he couldn't persuade the people to search for the master! Probably Cortez had originally employed him because of his ability to control the male inhabitants of the hacienda. Not more than a fourth of them would ever be loyal to any leader, I decided after a rapid survey of the crowd. Probably some of them were out and out revolutionists, some were Carranzistas, some were followers of one popular "general," some trailed after each new political star.
The poverty of the people hurt me. It was habitual poverty, the poverty of those for whom a government does nothing. The people were so used to their misery that it never occurred to them to resent political exploitation.
There was the poverty of an uneducated people—the poverty of the lazy.
Everything man uses comes from the soil and is made fit for man's consumption by the work of man's hands. When men refuse to work, either from physical laziness as it is developed in hot climates, or from the mob spirit as developed in Russia, or from false ideas of ease and comfort as has happened in more than one civilized country since the war—when men refuse to labor they court starvation for themselves and their neighbors. I concluded my reverie with the comment, "Mexicans are not the only lazy people I've seen since the war," when Dr. Travers returned.
"Nothing doing," he said briefly.

THE SUPERLATIVE ANTITHESIS

"Gone Back!" Light turns to dark and hope to fear;
Love is a withered leaf of some past year.
Earth cracks and corpse long since turned to clay
Hurtle like clouds through space towards Judgment Day.
The sun is cindered and the stars are black
When it is said of you "He has gone back."

"Come Back!" There is a radiance in the East;
The day's a festival, the night's a feast;
Women are gentle, men are brave and just;
There is no death and love has conquered lust;
God's breath is sparkling in the morning dew,
When this—"He has come back!" is said of you.

The difference between a "Yes" and "No,"
Or "love" and "hate," or "life" and "death," or "fire" and "snow"
Is nothing. What are "white" and "black"
Compared to "gone" and "come" before the small word "back?"
"Gone" is last winter, "Come" approaching summer,
And man's a "goner" when he's not a "comer."

fully. To see the doctor when something seems to be going wrong is a matter of common sense.

It does not mean that one always imagines he is sick; and it does not mean that he is not as well able as other people to take care of himself.
It does mean that he recognizes his own limitations. "He who is his own lawyer has a fool for a client," and the saying applies quite as well to him who is his own doctor.

If you have a doctor, trust him and let him trust you. Do not tell him half the case and hope that he will not discover the rest. Do not deceive him for fear that he will recommend something that you do not like. And do not run off to somebody else who professes to help you in some pleasant way.
You need an expert, not so much to prescribe remedies, as to find causes.
Do not take matters into your own hands and try to treat symptoms. Let your doctor know that he can depend on you to consult him before it is too late, and that you will not dose yourself behind his back. That only con-fuses things and makes it harder for him to understand the case.

And take his advice. That is harder than taking medicine; but it often does more good.

Back in the old days they stored their excess prophecies.

Such is Life

BY O. B. JOYFUL

I pray you, think not I am bold;
"Would be indeed amazing,
If calves like Nancy's I'd behold,
And not be loud in praising.

Perfection marks each luring curve,
With comeliness distracting;
In truth, as models would they serve
To please the most exacting.

And shameless Nancy feels quite free—

To urge that all her friends should see
Her leaves that are so charming.

Yet not a friend that you may meet
Will think her conduct shocking;
Her calves—you see—have each four

And never knew a stocking.

"Fear of ridicule," declares Profes-of human conduct."

"The average biped wouldn't be

OIL CONSUMPTION

Try as hard as they please, it seems impossible for oil producers to keep more than a jump ahead of oil consumption. Indeed, it is past the time when American oil wells can even maintain stride with the growing oil demands. Yes, of course, the automobile is responsible.

Indications point to a 1920 consumption totalling 495 million barrels of crude oil. In 1918 the world's entire oil output was but 514 million barrels.
The American consumption is 65 million greater this year than last; it is 175 million barrels greater than 1916.
At the same time American production has swelled. While consumption in four years has increased 54 per

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

An Argument
"What's your name?" inquired Nancy timidly to the stranger who had recently arrived in Scrub Land.

"Queen Avis," returned the other promptly, and Nancy was ever so relieved to learn that she wasn't Mrs. Bee, as she had feared. But the little girl couldn't help wishing that Queen Avis didn't look so much like Mrs. Bee. She had always been horribly afraid of her.

Nick was just about to ask her what she wanted when he remembered the lecture she had given him on manners, so he put it this way, "How can we serve you, your majesty?" and he made a low bow.

"I came for two things," answered the little lady. "First, I wish my velvet and gold cloak thoroughly dusted, and second, I want you to put an extra lot of honey into the flowers before you send them to the Land-Where-Spring-is-Coming. And do hurry with the clover and honeysuckle. I never was so hungry.

"Why, you like the very same things the bees like," said Nancy in a puzzled voice. "It's very curious! You look so much like them, too!"

"Look like them," retorted Queen Avis. "Why shouldn't I?" Which was a most mixing answer, because it didn't tell you anything at all.

"And put in plenty of pollen-flour," urged Queen Avis, as Nick was brush-ing her with the very best whisk broom Rubadub owned.

"You mean flower pollen, don't you?" corrected Nick. "The yellow powder in the flowers."

"No, I mean what I say," snapped Queen Avis. "Pollen-flour!"
"Flower pollen!" said Nick, sure he was right.

"Idiotic!" "Pollen-flour!" insisted the other. "The fairies and bees make bread of it to feed their babies."

"Doth right!" declared Rubadub coming in just then. And he explained how it was.

cent, production of crude oil in the United States has increased 46 per cent. The deficiency has been met by an increase of 329 per cent in oil imported from Mexico.

"At this rate of consumption it is clear," remarks the Wall Street Journal, "that the United States must rely mainly on Mexico to make up its oil requirements."

Mexico is now shipping oil at the rate of 129 million barrels yearly, compared with shipments of less than 90 million barrels in 1919.

Statesmen requested increased production, and the country responded nobly with a remarkable output of advice.

GAS MANUFACTURERS OF NATION TO MEET TO STUDY EMERGENCY

Serious Situation Concerning Coal Will be Considered

New York, May 25.—Quick relief to gas, electric light and power companies from the present serious interruption in their coal supply as a result of the nationwide traffic jam, will no doubt be given by the Interstate Commerce Commission through an order granting priority of shipment for coal.

Oscar H. Fogg, Acting Secretary of the National Committee on Gas and Electric Service, said yesterday that the Commission would probably act since its attention had been called to the fact that unless relief is speedily granted to public utilities as regards a steady flow of coal, nothing can avert a shut-down of these plants and a cessation of service in localities where the most acute conditions now prevail.

"If the situation does not improve," said Mr. Fogg, "the living conditions of approximately forty-five million people who are served by gas companies will be affected. Not only are the immediate consequences of the gravest concern, but companies find it impossible to secure the fuel necessary to operate under present conditions and are utterly unable to accumulate reserve stocks. Gas plants in some sections of the country have been down to the danger line several times during the past two weeks and are struggling along from day to day, hoping for coal to come through. The effect of even a temporary interruption of such an essential service as gas supply would work irreparable injury to the public."

So serious is the present shortage and threatened famine in oil and coal that representatives of several

WORN SEPARATORS CAUSE TROUBLE

Battery Refuses Charge—Dealer Tells What Can Be Expected

"When a battery refuses to take a charge it is often due to the separators being worn so that the plates come together, making a short circuit," said the manager of the Vesta Battery Service Station, at the Wilson Auto Co., Garage, in a discussion recently regarding the upkeep of automobile batteries.

"The wearing through of the separators does not necessarily mean that a new battery is needed. If the positive and negative plates are in good shape a new set of mats or separators may be installed.

"In our repairing, we are licensed to use the famous Vesta Impregnated Mats. These can be used in the repair of any make of battery, but only by authorized Vesta Service Stations. We guarantee such repairs on the basis of six months' service. Vesta Impregnated Mats are unusually tough and durable and are impregnated with a chemical which prevents freezing. Being of wood they are porous and afford a free path for the electric current. They are only one of many reasons why Vesta batteries give long and satisfactory service.

"Vesta Service Stations, not only in this city, but all over the country, have the good will of the motorist because of their complete equipment and their readiness to help the motorist in getting the best service from his battery.

"Vesta batteries have several other patented features which can be used in the repair of any battery. We are always ready to inspect or water your battery free of charge. By taking advantage of this service frequently some slight defect may be discovered and repaired which otherwise would soon destroy the battery."

STAR DUST

SHE RAISED HER ROSE TO BE A PLEASURE.

By Violet Moore Higgins.

If there's one fad dear to the heart of pretty blonde Enid Bennett, Thomas H. Ince star in Paramount Artcraft pictures, that fad is rose gardening.

She has never cared much for dogs or motors or any of the dozen and one fads that pretty movie stars can afford to indulge, and are sure to be pardoned for so doing, but to Miss Bennett there is no joy like that of a gardener knows.

"I believe I must be a real suburbanite at heart," she admitted, smiling up at me over one of her own prize rose bushes, "because I'd be just the kind that would run for the 5:15 local every night in spring, carrying a lawn mower under one arm and a sprinkling can and a bundle of seed catalogues under the other. We always had a garden at home in Australia, and even when I was working in Perth in an office for a time, I had a window box garden to go home to at night. But now I'm just perfectly happy because I have a real garden that I can putter around in all I want to."

Miss Bennett's joy in her garden isn't a selfish one—she welcomes her friends into its delights, and, as she is one of those people who has a way with flowers, just coaxes them right out of the ground and makes two roses grow where only one grew before. Her garden is really a place of delight.

Miss Bennett has achieved a big success in her latest picture, "The Woman in the Suitcase,"

hundred gas companies throughout the United States met in New York City last Monday to discuss ways and means of meeting this great emergency that so vitally affects the living conditions of forty-five million people in every section and every community of the entire country.

Gas Concern Hard Hit

with the proposition of closing down their plants unless they immediately can obtain gas oil and coal. It was repeatedly and emphatically pointed out that anything approaching a cessation of service would prove an actual calamity to consumers of gas in that it would produce a crisis amounting almost to starvation.

Figures were cited showing that many millions of families depend entirely upon gas for cooking as well as

lighting purposes. It also was shown that it would be impossible, in case of any discontinuance of gas service to provide quickly enough other means of cooking food to ward off actual cooked-food deprivation.

One of the points widely discussed was that of asking the Interstate Commerce Commission for priority of shipments and allocation of oil and coal. Another was the advisability of a representative body of gas manufacturers appearing before the proper authority at Washington to urge that a check be put at once upon the tremendous exports at this time of both coal and oil. Both these questions will be discussed fully at a conference of eleven hundred gas company representatives called to meet in New York tomorrow. This conference will be held at the Hotel Pennsylvania and at the session the whole gas industry situation, with all its various threatening phases, will be thrashed out in detail and a definite plan formulated to combat the daily increasing liability that gas service in many localities will have to be cut off because of shortage of gas-making raw materials.

CAR SHORTAGE AND LABOR ARE REAL PROBLEMS

Gout. Relief in R. R. Crisis is Only Temporary

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 25.—Reports to the interstate commerce commission today from its agents throughout the country showed a continued but slow improvement in the railway congestion situation. Members of the commission believed the peak of the congestion had passed and cited the report of the American Railway Association's car service commission which showed a reduction in the number of cars tied up from 236,000 on April 24, to less than 170,000.

BY HARRY B. HUNT.
N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.
Washington, May 25.—The two factors controlling the immediate railroad situation, according to F. E. Brown, assistant to Chairman Clark of the Interstate Commerce Commission, are: FIRST—Labor. SECOND—Car supply.

Until these two are satisfactorily met, no action that can be taken by government with respect to priorities, pooling of equipment, etc., will give more than slight temporary relief, he declares.

"The freight movement of the entire country is governed very largely by the flow of traffic into and out of some 15 principal terminals," Brown explained.

Shortage of Men.
"Since the switchmen's strike, the yardmen's forces in these terminals have been altogether inadequate.

"Many of the old men never have returned to work and the roads have been unable to replace them. The few new men are less efficient and freight congestion has increased.

"The result is, that no matter how many cars there are, the problem will not be solved so long as labor situation continues. We have appealed to the mayors in the cities chiefly affected for assistance. But, you cannot take an uneducated or unskilled laborer and make him an efficient yardman overnight.

"Once this labor situation is cleared up, then the question of car supply will be the immediate governing factor. The commission will do everything in its power to make a proper allocation of cars and to facilitate their distribution.

"It will also do what is necessary to enable the roads to finance purchase of additional cars and equipment."

ply will be the immediate governing factor. The commission will do everything in its power to make a proper allocation of cars and to facilitate their distribution.

Rate Increase Coming.
The commission began its hearings May 24 on the roads' applications for increased rates. These are expected to consume about three weeks. Indications are the financial situation of the roads is such that an increase of at least 25 per cent and perhaps as high as 35 per cent will be granted. From 500 to 8000 letters are being received daily from trade organizations, business men and individual shippers asking the roads, application for higher rates be granted.

The shippers, of course, expect to pass along the increased rates to ultimate consumer.

CORPORATIONS DISCUSSED IN CON CON TODAY

Cumulative Voting by Stockholders is Attacked

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., May 25.—Consideration in committee of the whole of the corporations and co-operative association's article for the new constitution was on the program of the Illinois basic law legislators today.

This article was taken up by the convention last Thursday and the first section, which is the same as in the present constitution, was adopted.

Debate upon the second section, which pertains to cumulative voting by stockholders in corporations was begun last week and will be continued today, it is expected.

The text of this section follows: "The general assembly shall provide, by law, that in all elections for directors or managers of incorporated companies every stockholder shall have the right to vote in person or by proxy for the number of shares of stock owned by him, for as many persons as there are directors or managers to be elected, or to cumulate said shares, and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors, multiplied by the number of his shares of stock shall equal, or distribute them on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit; and such directors or managers shall not be elected in any other manner."

This section was attacked last week by Delegate Levy Mayer of Chicago who made a motion to eliminate it from the constitution. Many corporations have been driven to other states to organize because of the provision in the present constitution permitting cumulative voting. Mr. Mayer said, Delegate Henry I. Green, of Champagne also spoke against the section. Delegate Oscar Carlstrom, of Alton, favored retaining it. A number of amendments were offered and those who favor its retention as a part of the constitution are expected to offer other amendments which will make it acceptable to a majority of the convention.

Daniels Said Plans Had Been Made—Lost

Washington, May 24.—Explaining that it was supposed to refute repeated assertions that he had been dilatory in having prepared and approved plans for war, Secretary Daniels today read to the Senate naval investigating committee a schedule of war plans prepared in the navy department prior to the entry of the United States into the war.

The naval secretary testified that in 1915 he instructed the general board to prepare a plan for war "against any possible enemy." Such a plan was prepared, he said, in addition to the "Black plan drawn up years before specifically for war against Germany."

In addition to these plans, Mr. Daniels said that on February 10, 1917, he submitted to the general board a problem based on a declaration of war against Germany, asking for an estimate of the situation, directed at close co-operation with the allies, the best method of driving the submarine from the seas and the use of United States battleships.

Asked by Chairman Hale to submit a copy of the reply to the problem, Mr. Daniels said the one copy had been lost.

Driving Ease in a MAXWELL is Due to Special Steels

Many who drive a Maxwell prefer it to a larger car.

They like its nimbleness, its quickness in getting under way, its peculiar ability to thread its way through traffic, its rare driving ease.

One can drive it farther in a day with less fatigue than many cars much larger.

The reason is clear: its engine pulls no superfluous weight.

Not a single unnecessary pound burdens it.

Special steels in a Maxwell eliminate the useless weight—steels made to Maxwell's own formulae, which equal pound for pound those in any car built.

They have extra strength forged into them, and they provide lightness.

This is one reason why Maxwell has won public favor the world over as indicated by nearly 400,000 now in use. How marked the tendency today is recorded by a production of 100,000 for 1920.

State Leadership G. O. P. is at Stake

By Associated Press. Springfield, Ill., May 25.—Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago will attempt to have a state chairman named by the Republican state central committee when it meets here tonight. Governor Frank O. Lowden desires that the committee postpone the selection of a chairman until after the September primary. The leadership of the Republican party in Illinois is conceded to be the real issue.

Twenty-four of the twenty-five state central committees are expected at the meeting. Ernest X. Leasure of Danville, committeeman from the eighteenth district is in France. His proxy is said to be held by Len Small of Kankakee.

Has Ten of Twenty-Five

Mayor Thompson is conceded to have control of the vote of the committeemen from the ten districts in Cook County. Whether he can obtain control of three votes of down state committeemen is problematical. If he can he will be able to force the election of a state chairman against the wishes of Governor Lowden and will also be able to name the man who shall hold the office. If the down state committeemen respect the governor's wishes the committee will postpone organization until September.

Who the mayor's candidate for the office of chairman will be is uncertain. Congressman Frank L. Smith of Dwight, who holds the office at present is said to be acceptable to the Chicago executive.

The first open skirmish between Mayor Thompson and the state executive for the Republican leadership came at the time of the party's state convention, May 10. At that time the governor succeeded in obtaining postponement of the drafting of a state platform until after the September primary against the wishes of the Chicago leader who had prepared a platform for immediate adoption by the convention.

Up to 1785 handkerchiefs were of every conceivable size and shape.

Brooklyn Pioneer Died Sunday Morn

Eugene Francis Vincent, one of the early settlers of Lee county and for years a resident of Brooklyn township, passed away Sunday morning at the advanced age of 84 years, two months and 16 days. Mr. Vincent suffered a stroke of paralysis about two years ago and was recently taken with a severe chill and suffered from a hernia, which together with his advanced age caused his death.

He was the son of Jean Baptiste and Mary Perry Vincent and was born in Champey, Alsace-Lorraine, France, March 7, 1836. He leaves to mourn his death his aged wife, four sons, Joseph A. Vincent of this city, Ernest E. Vincent, of West Brooklyn, Modest A. Vincent of Viola township, and one daughter, Mrs. Mary J. Lipps of Viola township, one brother, Joseph Vincent of West Brooklyn. Seven grandchildren, together with friends who sympathize with the family in this hour of bereavement. Funeral services were conducted this morning from the Catholic church in West Brooklyn and the interment was made in the Catholic church cemetery at that place.

The city of Charlotte, Mich., added several hundred dollars to the municipal bank roll by tapping the maple trees in the public park and selling the syrup.
